

Marcus DiPietro

ARCHITECT

Photography by Morgan Nowland

Marcus DiPietro Architect

Marcus DiPietro's residential designs capture a sophisticated simplicity that are at once thought-provoking and pleasant. He incorporates natural materials that provide a warmth to every space and elevate the home's connection to nature and the homeowner's way of life. A variety of wood, metal, and glass are found throughout the homes, with subtle details that make a statement—sometimes bold, sometimes quiet. Sightlines to natural surroundings and an abundance of natural light are hallmark features of Marcus' work. Overall you'll find a seamless unity, whether it's a modern dwelling or a traditional farmhouse, urban or secluded.

The Nashville-based architect runs his namesake firm and has garnered a long list of satisfied clients. Marcus works directly with the homeowner. He has a keen ability to listen and advocate for the homeowner in all aspects of the process. During design, Marcus provides a comprehensive 3-D virtual model of the home, as well as on-going detailed drawings, so the vision is clear and shared. His expertise in building science is a valuable resource throughout the planning and construction phases.

It's impossible to put your finger on exactly what makes one structure stand out from the rest, just as it's difficult to distinguish the difference between a good architect and a great one. However, the answer may be found in the responses from homeowners about Marcus DiPietro as their architect.

“People think I design houses, but really I am amplifying a lifestyle that my clients want to enjoy.”

-Marcus DiPietro

MODERN OUTLOOK

“Can’t put into words how grateful we are to have found Marcus. He instantly created an impression that is his hallmark calling card...perfection. I’ve built three homes before this one. I don’t think I’ve ever met anyone who is so thorough in his attention to detail and with such remarkable design instincts. He’s an artist. Aside from the fact that we love this house beyond what we imagined, I would eagerly do this again with him if the opportunity presented itself in the future. So much fun to work with.”-Diane C.

Photography by Morgan Nowland

Photography by Morgan Nowland

“My design ethos is about achieving elegance. It is my passion to face the messy demands of construction, find a way to unify the complicated and arrive at simplicity.”

–Marcus DiPietro

BELLE MEADE MODERN

“We are so happy with our beautiful home and grateful to Marcus for his tireless work on this huge project. From the beginning Marcus was reliable, very patient, flexible and open to our ideas and wishes. I loved the level of detail we went into and enjoyed the design process as Marcus is so easy to work with. Throughout the construction stage he remained involved and an ally and fought to bring the plans to fruition even when we faced challenges with engineering, weather, delayed materials and so on.” –Johanna F.

Anne and Arnie were always improving themselves. Now they turned their attention to deepening their family ties. They wondered how a well-designed, beautiful home might bring happiness to daily routines and family life...

HAIKU ON THE HILL

“Expertise: He allowed his previous clients to do the talking [regarding his professionalism]. Then he integrated himself in the contractor selection, leading the design into reality at every juncture. He definitely tackled zoning and code issues in our project and developed creative solutions for challenges that have occurred . Strengths: Listening, thoughtful design, passion for the project, patience, eye for detail, knowledge of products and construction, and conveys a comfortable nature” -Anne & Arnie M.

“Simple, uncluttered spaces, lots of natural daylight, a strong visual connection to nature—these are a few elements that have the power to deepen the connection to one’s truer self, to one’s family and to the land.”
—Marcus DiPietro

Photography by Morgan Nowland

The best thing we ever did was meet Marcus DiPietro. He is a phenomenal architect with an eye for subtle exquisite detail that is amazing. Through his collaborative process he is able to decipher critical information about you, how you want to live in your home, what is most important...then he brings you a design that blows you away. –Susi & Kent O.

Let me start by saying, we absolutely love our home. I love it during the day with all the light coming in various angles. I love it at night when there is no natural light and I find myself warmed by a combination of textures and well-designed spaces. I love that there is a vista worth my time through every window and every doorway, including interior doorways. The only thing I love almost as much as the house itself is the collaborative process we went through to create it. –Michelle & Jim A.

We love the home Marcus DiPietro designed for us. Marcus has a remarkable gift for translating the principles and elements of design into a reality. He helped us create a durable home that connects us to the outside and is exceptionally livable as well. Marcus is as much an advocate as architect. Building the home was stressful at times, but he was with us every step of the way. –Cooper & Emily M.

Marcus DiPietro Architect

416 Barrywood Drive, Nashville, TN

615-554-1198

www.marcusdipietro.com