

GregWestPhotography
Capturing the Hidden Secret

Construction Documentation: Open Walls Documentation

Open Walls Documentation™ solves communication challenges and can reduce costs during a build by:

- Reducing time and travel expenses – Review the Tour with project partners over Zoom, etc.
- Improving communication - leave notes for project partners embedded within the Tour itself
- Obtaining bids faster from subcontractors by reducing need for onsite review prior to bidding
- Sharing progress updates with building owners/homeowners, lenders
- Distribution of Tour at time of sale adding value for buyer and much more.

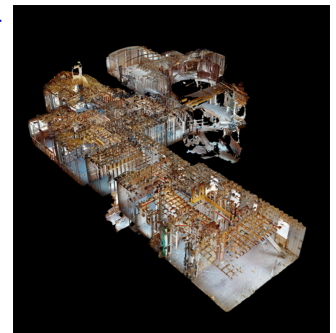

What is an Open Walls Virtual Tour?

An OWVT is a user-navigable immersive 3D tour (not a video) of the project interior after all of the MEP is roughed in. It is created before the insulation and drywall are installed. The OWVT visually documents the actual placement/size of every element of the build for a completely immersive experience.

Experience a sample Tour: <https://my.matterport.com/show/?m=zarYfq29cys>

What can you do inside an Open Walls Virtual Tour?

- Walk through a project as if you are there
- A Notes feature allows you to have conversations and share files with collaborators directly in your tour. Create punch list items for subs.
- Measure anything in the tour
- Tag/label items in the tour with, PDF's, video, text, add external links, things like manufacturer info attached to hardware for example*
- Embed the tour into any website
- Share the tour with a direct link
- View individual floor plans
- Order high resolution photos from the tour*
- Order measured 2d floor plans*
- Create a walkthrough slide show*
- * Items are add-on options

Are you ready to:

- Reduce construction errors through improved communication?
- Keep building/homeowners up to date with the progress on their build?
- Provide long term project documentation for building/homeowners?
- Secure insurance quickly and likely with a better rate?

Schedule a demonstration to see how an OWVT can help set your business apart from the competition.

603-740-9451 • delise@gregwestphotography.com