Maki Kawakita brings a fresh, genuinely out-of-the-box look to her photography. A native of Japan, Kawakita was educated in Tokyo at the Shinjuku Art School and Tama Art University before striking out for the U.S. and Rochester Institute Of Technology and the School Of Visual Arts. Now living in New York, Kawakita is rapidly rising in the fine-art and fashion photography worlds. Look for a portfolio in a future issue of Digital Photo Pro.
