

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

A real-life version of ECON 108 lecture

There's only so much love and goodness-things around (supply).
So we've got to share them undemandingly (demand).

Here's how it works:

There's X pounds (use this measure for consistency) of, say, happiness,
so when we're not so happy,

that means that someone else is,

and that if we keep on going,

keep on punching,

that sooner or later,

the good-earth-changes will bring around our way

a few more or less happiness pounds

for a shorter or longer period of time.

And so it works with all good---and bad---friendship-pain-joy things.

It all works.

Supply and Demand—

If we don't demand too much of the supply.

Copyright,©, 1978, 2024 Toni Thompson

Image ©, South African protea, Toni Thompson

