

HOLDING ON

You can't hold me with mere words, promises,
smiles,
or charm.

I don't thrive on them.

I don't live for them.

But without a few words, promises, smiles, and charm-- without a few well-chosen words, a few well-placed promises, a few well-scattered smiles, and a bit of your engaging charm,

Without a few words,
promises,
smiles,
or charm
you can't hold me either.
